

MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN CLIMATRON

This type of climate-controlled geodesic dome greenhouse was the world's first. It is part of a 79-acre botanical garden founded by Henry Shaw and is a National Historic Landmark. It is 70 feet high and 175 feet in diameter, containing 1500 species of tropical plants in St. Louis, Missouri.

ADDRESS
